VERB Announces The Addition of Shopify For In-Video Product Purchasing

HOLLYWOOD, CA – February 21, 2019 – Verb Technology Company, Inc. (OTCQB: FUSZD) (formerly nFusz, Inc.), a leader in business-focused interactive video, and the pioneer of Augmented Sales Intelligence software, announces the Company has joined the Shopify Affiliate Program. Verb users will now be able to create a Shopify web store and add interactive tags to their product videos that, when clicked, allow viewers to purchase products right in and through the video. Shopify will share revenue with Verb from users that sign-up for Shopify accounts originating through Verb’s taggCRM applications.

“Listening to user feedback, it’s remarkable how many people have products that they want to sell, but don’t have the online presence or e-commerce capabilities to do so effectively,” stated Rory J. Cutaja, CEO of Verb. “Providing our users an outlet to build their online presence through Shopify, and then market and sell their products using Verb’s tagg video technology, reduces friction from the sales process and gives our users the power to grow their businesses rapidly. Because of the strong and abundant interest our users have expressed in bundling an e-commerce solution with our taggCRM app, we expect the revenue derived through our Shopify affiliation to be an additional profit center for us, as we can continue to build stockholder value.”
